BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE for November. Joseph Mason. BLACKWOOD is scarcely as interesting as usual this month, though it contains several valuable articles. The leading paper is a review of the rare work of 'Benjamin of Tuleda,' upon the Jews. Caleb Stukely is continued, and contains powerfully drawn sketches. We shall copy a passage from it at the earliest moment. The translation of SCHILLER's Poems is continued, and adds great value to the number. It is evidently the work of one well fitted for it. There is a brief and inter- tors, and did justice to a distinguished citizen, esting Biography of the Marquis Wellesley, a Political article on the Revolt of the Workers, and one or two well written tales. Mr. Mason has republished it with his accustomed despatch and Parlor Devotions: consisting of Morning and Evening Prayers. (18mo. pp. 216.) Boston: James Loring. This volume is composed of the Family Prayers of William Wilberforce, with selections from those of William Jay, Tupady, Jenks, Bickersteth and others, carefully revised and adapted, where any revision or adaptation was needed. They form an excellent volume.

THE DUBLIN UNIVERSITY MAGAZINE for November is exceedingly rich and interesting. 'Jack Hinton' is carried to the end of the fifty-seventh chapter, and Harry Lorrequer promises, with the January number, to commence a new novel entitled 'The Loiterings of Arthur O'Leary.' The second half of the ' Hour's Talk about Isaac Walten' is given, with several extracts from his classic writings. Alison's French Revolution is reviewed at considerable length, and very favorably; and an interesting paper is given upon the 'Remains of Charles Wolfe.' 'The Husband Lover' is the title of a long tale in two parts.

BENTLY'S MISCELLANY for November, already published by Joseph Mason, contains a great variety of amusing papers, with many of permanent interest. Mrs. Ledbury's Tour is continned with spirit, as is also the novel of Richard Savage. There is a great number of brief humorous sketches with one or two tales of decided power and ability.

City Reform.
To the Editor of The Tribune: I am a Whig, and think I have a right to inquire of the Common Council if they have not had time enough to carry out more retrenchment, &c. in our City expenses. It is true they have detected some defaulters or robbers and have reduced the salaries of some of the office-holders for which they have thanks. But I would inquire what has become of the street cleaning which we were told could and would be contracted out for five years at a saving of $50,000 per annum from the last five years. If I mistake not, a special committee was appointed to contract the streets; if they have not done it, why is it not done, or do the committee think $50,000 to 823, (and afterwards to a much greater number,) per annum, or $250,000 in five years a small item I would also inquire of the Board of Aldermen what has become of the report which passed the Board of Assistants some three months since, for an alteration in collection of taxes, whereby the City would save $30,000 per annum, and which alteration almost all the tax payers are in favor of. There are a number of other projects whereby the City taxes could be reduced, and I would mention the alteration of our police and watch system among the rest. I do hope that the Whigs will pass these measures. I am aware the majority is small, and the Locos will do all in their power to prevent any reform in our City expenses, but the Whigs must unite as one man, and they can do it if A MECHANIC AND TAX PAYER. they will.

Ontrage upon the Navy. To the Editor of The Tribune

Will you, as a friend to the Navy and to justice, ask, through the columns of your valuable paper, of the Hon. Secretary of the Navy, Mr. UPSHUR, by what rule of justice or right he has appointed Commander Franklin Buchanan to the command of the 1st class Sloop-of-War Vnicennes, when there are fifty-four Commanders senior to that officer who have not yet had commands affoat, and most of whom have been long earnest and arduous applicants to the Navy Department for sea-service?

Not content with this outrage on the feelings and pride of fifty-four Commanders, (among whom are some of the best officers of the Navy, he has, contrary to a regulation made by himself, ordered his own brother, Lieut. Upshur, the command of one of the finest Gun-Brigs in the Navy, although that officer has twenty-eight Lieutenants senier to him on the Navy Register, all of whom would feel proud to command such a vessel. By publishing the above facts to the world, with any remarks of your own that you may think such rank injustice on the part of the Secretary deserves, you will do the Navy good service.

A FRIEND TO JUSTICE AND THE NAVY. The Housatonic Ruitrond Completed.

To the Editor of The Tribune : You were not mistaken in supposing the Housatonic Railroad to be completed. If you will look at the date of the letter in the Commercial you will see that it was written several weeks since. In order to satisfy the incredulous, I now offer to sured, and endeavored to convince them, they prove that the cars of the Housatonic Company on were wholly unprepared for resumption; and es-Friday last were run from Bridgeport to Greenbush and returned the next day; that the passenger train now runs daily and regularly between Bridgeport and West Stockbridge, and that from West Stockbrige there is an unbroken line of Railroad to Bos-

Jackson declared war upon the National Bank, no one could be so ignorant as not to know that the people of the United States possessed the best and most uniform currency in the world; it is scarcely to be believed that human ingenuity could have devised a better one. We had a paper currency fully equal to a specie one, because it always commanded specie; and such a currency the best political economists, with common experience to back them, tells us is a better currency than specie, because it has none of the inconveniencies of the latter; and the rate of exchange between the re-motest points of the vast territory of the United States was actually less than that of the great cities of France-between Paris and Bordeaux, for instance. It was under such circumstances that President Jackson, falling into a personal quarrel with Mr. Biddle, the cause of which is well known (Mr. Biddle refused to remove Mr. Mason from the Presidency of the New Hampshire Branch of the United States Bank, at the bidding of the Old Roman.) astonished the world by making war upon the Bank itself, declaring that it had failed to effect the purpose for which it was created-that is, the furnishing a good currency and an adequate rate of exchanges to the country; and insisting that this object would be better effected by the State Banks.

This was the point, the great point, on which the whole war turned; Mr. Biddle (with nearly the whole American people, at that time, agreeing unless controlled by the General Government, and that the destruction of the National Bank must be followed by a great increase of State Banks; which, left to themselves, uncontrolled by a National Bank, must speedily destroy themselves, and the whole currency of the country; while the Jackson administration, on the contrary, insisted, that the State Banks offered a sufficient, and safer means of accomplishing all the purposes of a National Bank. It was under President Jackson's auspices -under his direct advice and exhortations to the States to charter new banks, and to the banks hemselves to increase their business, throwing off all the trammels of, and all respect for the United States Bank, (go back to the Jackson official paper, the Globe, of 1833, where this ruinous course the cause of its ruin? The radical evil was that, as a State Bank, its capital was too vast to find The ruin of the State Bank of the United States was the act, not of Mr. Biddle, (no single individual was, perhaps, competent to such a deed of destruction,) but of the States-the free, sovereign States, which borrowed its money, dishonored the debt, and left it to sink under a load of worthless

State scrip, for which it had given up its gold and silver. Let us remember, when we charge this loss-resulting from this investment of the means of the Bank in State stecks-as the crime of Mr.

Biddle, how many other persons committed the same crime; let us remember a fact which has never yet been properly brought before the country, that the United States Government, having the Smithsonian Fund and several millions of dollars to invest for the Indians-Creeks, Cherokees.

&c .- invested it, in pursuance of an act of Congress, in State stocks; and now the United States ting Committee of 1841. This is a fact which There is another fact, said Mr. Clayton, which I mention in justice to Mr. Biddle, and which, in justice to him, ought never to be forgotten. In January, 1841, the banks of Philadelphia, which had been forced into suspension, were compulso-rily directed to resume specie payments, just at row $800,000. Mr. Biddle, then only a private citizen, exherted the banks not to resume; he aspecially he advised them not to lend the money to the State, unless allowed to postpone the resumption; for, he argued and solemnly declared (what his long financial experience enabled him to foresee) that if the Banks lent the money and resumed, both they and the State must inevitably break.

But the Banks, driven by popular clamor, both resumed and lent the money; and now we see the end of it-many of the Banks gone, the State of Mr. C. having shown the superiority of the National Bank system over the State Bank system, and traced the true cause of the explosion of the latter, predicted with perfect confidence, that the currency and the exchanges of the country would ramain distracted, in consequence of successive contractions and expansions by the States' Banks. acting without concert and without check. He predicted that, so long as the State Bank system, now existing, should remain without the control of a National Institution, the country would be convulsed by alternate suspensions and resumptions of pecie payment, by frequent explosions of State Banks, followed by all their disastrous consequenes, and by continual fluctuations and distractions of the exchanges. He considered the party which avored the present state of things, and opposed the National Institution, as emphatically the Bank Party-a Bank party of the most odious character, the whole tendency of their measures being to fasten upon us the evils, without any of the ad-antages of the banking system. But I have not time to follow Mr. Clayton any urther in his remarks. My object in making this ommunication has been to invite public attention o his exposition of the causes of the failure of the Inited States Bank of Pennsylvania, and to the predictions of still further calamities to follow, as inevitable consequences of the present state of hings) which many will think of sufficient imporance to be remembered hereafter.

WHIMSICAL HORSE -There is a very fine horse n the possession of Sir Henry Meux & Co., the eminent brewers, which is used as a dray horse, but is so tractable that he is left sometimes without any restraint to walk about the yard, and return to the stable according to his fancy. In the vard there are also a few pigs of a peculiar breed, which are fed on grains and corn, and to these pigs the horse has evidently an insuperable objection. which is illustrated by the following fact: "There is a deep trough in the yard holding water for the horses, to which this horse goes alone with his mouth full of corn, which he saves from his supply. When he reaches the trough, he lets the corn fail on the ground, and when the swine approach to eat it, (for the old ones keep aloof,) he suddenly seizes one of them by the tail, pops him into the trough, and then capers about the yard, seemingly delighted with the frolic. The noise of the pig soon brings the men to his assistance, who know from experience what is the matter, whilst the horse indulges in all sorts of antics, by way of horse laugh, and then returns quietly to the stable. MESSRS. A. B. SANDS & Co., SIRS: Most gratefully do 1 embrace this opportunity for stating to you the great relief obtained from the use of your Sarsaparilla. I shall also be happy, through you, to publish to all who are afflicted, as I lately was, the account of my unexpected, and even for a long while despaired of cure. Mine is a painful story, and trying and sickening as is the narrative of it. for the sake of many who may be so surely relieved, I will briefly et accurately state it. Nineteen years ago last April a fit of sickness left me with an Erysipelas eruption. Dropsical collections immediately took place over the entire surface of my body, causing such an enlargement that it was necessary to add a half yard to an enlargement that it was necessary to add a half yard to the size of my dresses around the waist. Next followed, upon my limbs, ulcers, painful beyond description. For years, both in summer and winter, the only mitigation of my suffering was found in pouring upon those parts cold water. From my limbs the pain extended over my whole body. There was literally for me no rest, by day or by night. Upon lying down these pains would shoot through my system, and compel me arise, and, for hours together, walk the house, so that I was almost entirely deprived of sleep. During this time the Erysipelas continued active. deep. During this time the Erysipelas continued active, and the ulcers enlarged, and so despity have these eaten, that for two and a half years they have been subject to bleeding. During these almost twenty years I have consulted many physicians. These have called my disease—as it was attended with an obstinate cough, and a steady and active pain in my side—a dropsical consumption; and though they have been skilful practitioners, they were only able to afford my case a partial and temporary relief.

I had many other difficulties to a complicated to describe. I have also used many of the mediciness that have been recommended as intallible cures for this disease, yet these all faded, and I was most emphatically growing worse. In all taled, and I was most emphatically growing worse. In this critical condition, given up by friends, and expecting for myself, relief only in death, I was by the timely interposition of a kind Providence, jurnished with your, to me, invaluable Sarsaparilla. A single bottle gave me an assurance of health, which for twenty years I had not once felt. Upon taking the second, my enlargement diminished, and in twelve days from the 5th October, when I compared to the providence of the control of the c and in twelve days from the 5th October, when I commenced taking your Sarsaparilla, I was able to enjoy sleep andrest, by night, as retreshing as any I ever enjoyed when in perfect health. Besides, I was, in this short time, relieved from all those excrutiating and unalleviated pains that had afflicient my days, as well as robbed me of my night's repose. The uters upon my limbs are healed, the Erysipeias cured, and my size reduced nearly to my former measure.

the Erysipeias cured, and my size reduced nearly to my former measure.

Thus much do I feel it a privilege to testify to the efficacy of your health-restoring Sarsaparilla. A thousand thanks, sirs, from one whose comfort and whose hope of foture health are due, under God, to your instrumentality. And may the same Providence that directed me to your nid, make you the happy and honored instruments of blessing others, as diseased and despatring as your much relieved and very grateful friend.

Another proof of the superior value and efficiency of his preparation. New-York, Oct. 19, 1842. MESSRS. SANDS—GENTLEMEN: If you alone were concerned in the present statement, the great inducement for making it would be removed; for of course no testimony can strengthen your own convictions in relation to the value and efficiency of your Sarsapartila, which has already proved such a blessing to the many hundreds who have used it. But I have looked upon the world encircling in its arms thousands bowed down with ufferings stallar to my own, who woold gindly basten to the same source that restored my health, it they were persuaded they would meet with the same happy results. Therefore, gentlemen, it is that those thousands may be convinced, and profit by their conviction as I have done, that induces me to tate be, fore the world a period of suffering such as few have known, and the permanent rehef I received from your Sarsaparilla. But how shall I begin, or how describe those exeruciating agonies that seized upon my frame? Early in the month of June, 1840, I was first attacked with rheumatism, caused, I have reason to believe, by a severe cold matism, caused, I have reason to believe, by a severe cold ry ill. My suffering soon became intense, everywhere I seemed diseased. For five months I was unable to walk, and for six weeks did not lie upon a hed, but was obliged to remain in a sitting posture, that being less agonizing than any oth-. My whole body was so sore and racked with pair e slightest touch caused inexpressible distress. For the signifest open caused he apreciated that men indicate the months I did not sleep but two nights, and the only res. I occamed was during the day, when nature became exhausted and I lell into a siumber, from which I was came exhausted and the braing and throbbing pail. My simbs were swollen and my shoulders drawn out of place, and altogether I was rendered entirely helpless. I obtained the best medical advice, but without receiving any permanent relief. The rheumatism being cambined with a swelling and painful affection of the joints, rendered itstill werse. Tumors formed under the skin, round my head, which caused burning and lanciating pains similar to scrofula of the glands.

My groans at night caused the watchman to stop in the street in the passed by; and when many of my friends residing in Poughkeepsie last visited me, they bid me farewell, as they then thought for ever; and once the family aspect, and the last speck of the go out. embled in the room to watch the last spark of life go out. But the flame of life again glared up within mv; and so n after this I heard of your Sarsaparilla, and determined to try it; and behold the result. After taking one bottle the pain left me, and I was able to walk and sieep. I could carcely realize the transition-so sudden, so complete. Atter using four or tive bottles, I was entirely cured. And are you alone, gentlemen, concerned to know it? I think not; and to is language is soo mild for the occasion. For I know that the medicine that poss-sses me power to cure me is capable of conferring the same blessing upon thousands of others suffering—perhaps dying; therefore, these are all concerned to know that they can be cured. In fact, all are concerned in the discovery of any thing that rends to pro-mote the happiness of the human race; for we are social beings, and cannot suffer alone. Persons may doubt this statement if they will, and go on and suffer and die, I have discharged a duty which I felt incumbent upon me in mak-ing it known for the benefit of those who choose to believe if And when I look into the past—upon those collary days it. And when I look into the past—upon those foliary days and sieepless nights—I thank God that I am as I am. And I thank you, gentlemen, that you have made science minister unto our infiratiles, and I for one, will proclaim the fact. Respectfully,

PEAD THIS.—Having been afflicted for the last 10 or 12 years with a complication of diseases which confined me to my house and bed a great pirtion of the time, my stomach extremely weak and sore, violation of the time. ent pains in my side, my strength exhausted, and, in fact, educed to such a degree that life seemed to be nearly ex-inct, I was invited by Dr. Starkweather, and by his advicecommenced the use of his medicines—but was so weak and debi itated that I could take but half the usual dose of the debi itated that I could take out that the isbail dose of the Hepa ic Riixir. I had taken so much medicine previously that I had no faith or confidence in any thing that bore the name of medicine. However, I continued the use of the Hepaine Elixir, in half doses, for one week, when I beg in to feer its beneficial effects; I was then directed to increase the dose, which I found I could easily bear, and to the uner astonishment of myself and friends, I was soon able to leave my bed, and in a few weeks was able to ride 30 miles in one than the better the beginning that any time in the contraction of the soon able to leave my bed, and in a few weeks was able to ride 30 miles in one than which I could not have done before at any time in ten day, which I could not have done before at any time in ter vears past. I can now do my week about house, and feel per-fectly well. I feel truly grateful to the Doctor, for his pre-scriptions, and sincerely believe the use of his Elixir has re-sported me to health and I can do no less than to earnestly en-treat all who are suffering with blious diseases to go and do likewise, and they may rest assured that they will de rive as much benefit rom it as I have done. I believe Dr Starkweather's Hepatic Elizer to be a truly valuable medi-cine. LUCRETIA D LELAND. Grafton, Mass.
